"There are more men ennobled by reading than by nature."

DETROIT

[News items for this column may be sent to Mrs. C. C. Colby, 638 Baldwin Avenue. A few words of information in a letter or card is sufficient. We will do the rest.]

Sunday, October 7th, was a beautiful, and many of the deaf took the advantage and walked downtown to attend the services of the Ephphatha Episcopal Mission. A chapter 4:26-32 of the Ephesians were read and repeated by the Lay Reader. It was interesting and instructive. St. Paul wrote this epistle when he was a prisoner in Rome. He quietly warned the people to hold firm the faith which they had received. It was written about thirty years after our Lord's ascension.

Dear Readers, when you get time to spare, read it, and it will do you good. Then Lay-Reader spoke on "The Dope Traffic." There are a million or more people in the country now suffering with little chance of relief. There is one way to combat the evil—stamp it out at its source. Lay-Reader spoke of one case of a man, who has fought the battle which saddened the congregation.

Come to church. You ought to belong to the church. The church is a school for the education of imperfect ones. It is a front line trench. But after all, the great compelling attraction that will keep the deaf in a church service is the man in the pulpit, who knows how to make religion interesting.

The Lay-Reader after the service said that our Missioner, Rev. C. W. Charles, was pleased with the progress of our Mission, Guild and Prayer Meeting. Rev. Mr. Charles will be with us some Sunday this month. Holy Communion will be administered.

The Guild's "Hallowe'en Party" of October 5th, was a great success. Mrs. Engel was a charming manager, and everything went smoothly. There was a big attendance—broken record! Mrs. Engel wishes to thank those who helped her over the top. A contest for best dressed and comical costumes was held. Mrs. Walter Carl and Mr. Goldstick carried off the prizes. The former wore a pretty dressing sack, and the latter a dress in the shape of a box of cigars. Miss Kieffer secured the second prize, while Misses Van Verne and Pewter were awarded third prize.

Miss Constance Van Verne was a happy mixer though blind. She enjoyed herself throughout the evening. She was dressed as a fairy, all in white, and was admired by all.

A guess in weight contest of a melon was waged upon, and our friend from Windsor, Ontario, W. K. Liddy, captured it. He guessed the weight was 9½ pounds and the melon weighed 9 pounds.

The apple eating contest came next between the men. In three basins of water several apples were floating. Max Crittenden, a sturdy and young groom, of Royal Oak, who bit one of the largest red apples and ate it to the core, like a crocodile, carried off the first prize—a cigar holder. The judges were Mrs. Colby, H. B. Waters and C. Ozler.

Miss Gwendolyn Caswell, a visitor from Chicago, entertained the happy gatherings with her fancy dances. A gentleman from the side of the shore pronounced her to be the second "Gaby Daisley," while a son of Michigan claimed her as a "Trilby" of Detroit.

The regular business meeting of the Ladies' Guild was held on Thursday afternoon, October 4th. Mrs. Colby was chosen Secretary pro tem in place of Mrs. Huhn, who is critically ill at the East Side Hospital. Mrs. Nelson offered Lord's Prayer, then Mrs. MacLachlan read a Scripture.

The Secretary pro tem read September proceeding, and Treasurer Schneider reported that $254.61 is safely deposited in the bank and eighteen dollars in hand.

The Board of Trustees, of which Mrs. Behrendt is chairman, is to meet on October 30th.

Mrs. Perry, chairman of the coming Christmas Festival, gave her plans. Mrs. Nelson told Miss Matilda Betzler's farewell message to the Guild, Mission and everybody. Miss Betzler was a good kind Catholic woman. She often attended the Guild and Mission meetings, and helped the good cause.

Mother and relatives of Miss Constance Van Vreene, a blind girl, attended the Guild's Hallowe'en Party, October 5th, and enjoyed the deaf's company. Miss Constance became blind when three years old, and became deaf four years ago, from the flu. She has a deaf uncle, Herman Probst.

A baby girl of Mr. and Mrs. John Rutherford will be baptized some Sunday this month.

Mrs. Gertrude E. M. Nelson, the founder of the Guild of the Ephphatha Episcopal Mission for the Deaf, of St. John Church, is sending out the following notice:

NOTICE

A Thanksgiving supper of special interest will be served at St. John's Parish House, 33 Montcalm Street, E., Friday evening, November 2d, from 6:30 to 7:30, given for the benefit of Ephphatha Episcopal Mission and the Ladies' Guild.

The entire public is hereby extended a cordial invitation to attend.

Friend living outside of Detroit who feel an interest in this worthy object: will be welcome.

The chairman, Mrs. G. E. M. Nelson and Mr. H. B. Walters promise a good program to all who may be pleased to come. Remember date and time—Friday evening, November 2d, at 6:30 to 7:30 o'clock.

The entire plan for this social has been arranged entirely by Mrs. Wilson, and submitted to Rev. Dr. Woodroffe, which has met with his hearty approval. The invitation is extended to the entire public of Detroit, and we ask your cordial co-operation. This social will be the first of its kind ever given under the auspices of the Mission and Guild. It promises to be instructive, and a financial profit is expected.

R. V. Jones and family will live with Mr. and Mrs. Thos. J. Kenney out on Fenkel Street, October 23d.

Mrs. Arthur Meek and baby are still in Delevau, Wis., with relatives. Arthur is carrying the picture of his baby with him.

Mrs. Ralph Huhn, who has been confined at the East Side Hospital for three weeks, is much improved. She was taken home this week, and she is to stay in bed until Christmas, under the care of the private nurse.

Miss Ida Feinberg, of this city, and Mr. M. Grossman, of Brooklyn, N. Y., were married Sunday, October 7th. Congratulations.

Mrs. Orstein is preparing to go to New York City to visit her relatives on November 2d.

Mrs. John Deatesman went to Saginaw, Mich., Saturday October 6th, on a business trip.

William White, of Chicago, is in the city calling on old friends.

Mrs. James Henderson looked well and hearty and shook hands with old friends at the Guild's Hallowe'en Party, October 5th.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rollins are contemplating purchasing and building a home out on East Gratiot next spring.

Miss Josie Caves was called home to Thames, Ont., by telegram last week, to attend the burial of her niece.

Water Carl's mother spent three days in Grand Rapids recently.

Eli Blumenthal's father was killed in an auto accident last week while in a funeral procession entering the Jewish Cemetery.

Mrs. Preston Perry is boarding with the Bells, while her daughter, May, is on a long vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Smyth and Mr. and Mrs. John Rutherford are neighbors.

Some Detroit frats and friends are going to attend the annual masquerade hall, of Toledo Division, No. 16, N. F. S. D., Saturday evening, October 27th, at American Legion Hall, on Erie and Adams Streets, Toledo, Ohio.

Through his cousin, M. Krohn-gold, of Akron, Ohio, has secured a position at the Lincoln Motor Co. His wife and child will join him in Detroit in a short time.

Mr. and Mrs. McLean have moved to Brightmore, Mich., where they purchased a new home recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Heymansson expect the former's sister and daughter of New York, to visit them in November.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Brown, of Mt. Clemens, Mich., are proud of a new Buick car, they purchased recently. Miss Gwendolyn Caswell returned ed home to Chicago Sunday afternoon, October 7th, accompanied by Mrs. McArdle, who was on her way to Denver, Col.

The Detroit Chapter, M. A. D., has cancelled its entertainment for December 8th, and D. A. D. has secured it.

Division No. 2, N. F. S. D., had its regular business meeting Saturday evening, October 6th, with President Stutsman in the chair.

Maurice Perriek left Friday, October 12th, for Chicago, where he was married to Miss Hertzberg, on Sunday, October 14th. Congratulations.

C. E. Drake, Mrs. Colby, C. Ozler and S. Goth were appointed by president of Detroit Chapter, M. A. D., to hunt and engage a better hall to hold its meetings.

Mrs. Wm. Rheiner entertained a few of her friends to a sumptuous supper Sunday, October 7th.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hull reside at Junction Avenue, and Mrs. Eunice Stark is staying with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Cloyd Stegner were at the Guild's Hallowe'en party October 5th, and said the reunion Indiana Association was a success, and the attendance about five hundred.

Our genial friend, W. K. Liddy and his charming bride, attended the Guild's Hallowe'en Party and enjoyed the evening.

Miss Matilda Stark is proudly exhibiting a lovely black beaded bag she received for her birthday, October 2d.

CAN YOU HEAR WITH YOUR FINGERS?

PRESENT EXPERIMENTS PROMISE A METHOD OF DEVELOPING OUR SENSES SO THEY MAY BECOME INTERCHANGEABLE IF NECESSARY.

Has it ever been or will it ever be possible for human being to see with their noses or hear with their finger tips? Can eyes be developed in the back of the head or wherever they might be needed? The amazing case of Willetta Huggins, the seventeen-year-old blind and deaf girl of Janesville, Wisconsin, make these question much less fantastic than they once would have seemed. For, Popular Science Monthly assures us, she can do some of these things, such, for instance, as recognizing colors by the sense of smell and spoken words by placing her fingers against the throat of the speaker. It is said she can identify people by their personal odors and she even knows when the family cat enters the room for a moment and then leaves.

Physicians and psychologists are debating the exact nature of her uncanny powers, for, among other things, she can recognize spoken sounds when her fingers are touching the throat of the speaker. She insists that she does not hear the sounds. She says that she "feels" them. She can also feel sounds in the same way though a wooden rod, such as a billiard cue, one end of which is pressed against the chest of the speaker, the other end of which she touches.

"She carries around with her a portable telephone of the kind used by deaf people, but she does not put it to her ear. Instead, she touches the vibrating diaphragm in the telephone with the tips of her fingers. She asserts that she feels the vibrations of sound in this way. She has been able, under test, to hear concerts and stage performances and to describe correctly what was happening. Aided by her telephone apparatus, she can carry on a conversation with all the ease of a person who has perfect hearing.

"There is little doubt, also, that she can really smell colors. In a series of careful tests arranged by Dr. Thomas J. Williams, of Chicago, and Professor Robert H. Gault, of the Department of Psychology of Northwestern University, Willetta's eyes were thoroughly blindfolded by a pair of black goggles stuffed and covered with cotton and fastened down to her forehead by adhesive tape. She named correctly the colors of thirty samples of yarn as well as many other colored objects. This was done even without touching the yarns, merely by smelling them when they were held close to the end of a glass tube about four inches long."

Is it possible, asks the science journal, in closing, that Willetta Huggins differs from other people only in that she happens to know how to use senses that all human beings possess but have neglected?

Dr. James R. Tate.

The death September 27th of Dr. James Nolte Tate, Superintendent of the Minnesota School for the Deaf for the past twenty-seven years was a most severe loss to the profession and to the community in which he lived. The feeling here was very personal, as he was a Callwegian by birth and was related to many people in and near Fulton, as well as being well known by many who were his associates when he was a teacher in our school and later the head of the institution.

His father was a pioneer settler in this county. Dr. Tate was born on the family homestead October 17th, 1851. He graduated from Westminster College, Fulton, in 1873 and successively received from his alma mater the degrees of M.A. and LL.D. He became a teacher here in 1875, under Superintendent W. D. Kerr, and who in a few years promoted him to the place of assistant superintendent. Upon the resignation, followed soon after by the death of Dr. Kerr in 1889, Dr. Tate—then Mr. Tate—was chosen to succeed him. In 1895 he resigned to take the superintendency of the Minnesota School.

The success which crowned the efforts of Dr. Tate in his chosen field and the wide reputation which he won as an educator of the deaf did not surprise those who knew him in the Missouri School, for there he displayed those qualities of mind and heart which made him a leader in the profession.

Now, in the fullness of years he is gone. His work is done, and well done. He has left indeed a memory to be revered, and in the chronicles of the education of the deaf his name will stand for all time, ranked with those of other great and good men who devoted their talents unselfishly of the service of their fellow men.

We quote from Fairbault Daily News:

"Though he did not attain great length of days, few men live so complete a life as that of Dr. James N. Tate, who passed away September 27th. To few men is it given to live so usefully, to give so much of service for others. To a peculiar fitness for the special work which he was called to do was added a heart overflowing with tenderness for those about him, and thousands were made better and happier for having come under his influence.

"In his broadmindedness he was an example and an inspiration. Possessed of firm religious convictions, his Christianity was of such sound and yet liberal character that for many years he gave Sunday morning Bible talks to the pupils of the school with the entire approval of the religious guardians of children of many nationalities and of Protestant, Catholic and Hebrew faith. A man of definite party affiliations, and not hesitating to express his sentiments on all proper occasions, yet he held his position under varying administrations, unweaved in his tenure by the partisan clamor which constantly attends the affairs of most public institutions. Only a man of perfect honesty and sincerity could have a record like this.

"He was in the front rank of those of his profession who stood for progress. He kept abreast of the newest methods of educating the deaf. He was never satisfied to leave well enough alone. His mind was constantly evolving new ideas, greater plans for the development and upbuilding of the school of which he was the head. To the last he was thinking of his beloved children, urging better and more complete accommodations for them, pleading with the legislature for more adequate quarters and for better facilities for conserving their health and fitting them for useful lives."—Missouri Record.

CHICAGO.

Remember how we used to play the childish game of "tag," As soon as school let out we'd run—we'd never, never lag. "As twigs are bent the trees incline;" with winsome, winning way Our olden playmates—now grown up—are "tagging" us today.

When deaf folks compete against hearing persons and beat them at their own game, it is worth a "lead article" in this palladium of liberty any old day.

October 15th, was "tag day" for the Chicago Children's Benefit League, and All Angels' Church was asked to delegate two ladies to "tag" pedestrians. According Mrs. Wm. J. O'Neil spent that lovely Indian Summer day in fastening colored printed tags to the lapels of ladies and gentlemen on the Owl Drug store corner—Madison and Clark—while her helper, Mrs. Linda Brimble, held out the collection box for donations. They turned in a box containing some $35 when the day was over, which the heads of the movement declared was excellent, very. (Later—That sum seems to have been the largest gathered and turned in by any collectors that day. Another triumph for the deaf.)

Arthur Hinch and his football team "came through" much better than did most Sac attempts to put athletic teams in the field. Hinch actually succeeded in securing admission to the City League in the heavyweight division, although his team averages only 155 pounds. They have several games scheduled, with guarantees of from $75 to $200 including all expenses—which is excellent for a small club, exceeded only in silent history by the immortal Goodyear Silents. The first game of the season, October 14th, saw our lighter deaf eleven hold the Cicero Boosters to a 19-6 score. Ladislav Cherry, last year on the Gallaudet team, is coach. All proceeds go to the Sac treasury, which furnished complete outfits to the men, the players receiving not a cent, either directly or indirectly—in keeping with the spirit of amateur athletics. A crowd is expected to accompany the Sac team to Gary, Ind., October 28th.

The Chicago nest of the O. W. L. S.—the secret society of Gallaudet College ladies (they call them "sororities" instead of "fraternities") held its quarterly "hoo-hoo" at the local office of the JOURNAL on the 13th. Ten owls fluttered in: Georgia Elliott Hasenstab, ex-'93; Grace Rhodes Frank, ex-'94; Elizabeth Gable Zollinger, ex-'99; Frieda Banman Meagher, '02; Ida Weideman Roberts, '05; Bertha Thiesseu Henry, '10; Goldie Newman, '11; Mary Fosnan Minot, '11; Lydia McNeil, ex-'24, and Katherine Kilcoyne, ex-'25.

Mrs. Frank was elected Hooter, succeeding Mrs. Hasenstab, while the owl-eyed Miss Kilcoyne was selected quill-pusher and coin-custodian. The ladies decided to raise shekels for needy college students, with which laudable purpose in mind A. L. Roberts was sentenced, sight-unseen, to give a public reading some Saturday soon. At five they sat down to a luncheon, the owl-nest being decorated in bluff and blew—pardon, I mean buff and blue.

How is work in Chicago? Fair; or better than fair.

The Book and Job printers voted 2 to 1 to accept the employers' final offer, rather than strike. New scale is $51 for a 44-hour week, days; $55 for a 44-hour week, nights; and $55 for a 40-hour week of five nights for those starting work after 8 p.m. This is an hourly rate of $1.15 days, and $1.25 nights—the same as the newspapermen receive. The newspapermen are still clamoring for an increased scale. Despite settlement of job scale, it seems there are several newcomers in silent circles vainly hunting situations.

The department of labor announces Chicago food prices have risen two per cent during the past month—a total increase of nine per cent for the past year.

Most of Chicago silents are working, but with rents so high few of us are buying cars and furs.

The frats of Chicago division, No. 1, sent a former member—past Grand President Jacob Kleinhaus, now of Niles, Mich.—a check for $44 representing voluntary contributions. That is fraternity with a punch. He is out of danger following his fall off the roof, but will be unable to get around for several weeks yet. Chicago division is the first local society to announce the date of its 1624 picnic, having leased National Grove, in Riverside, Ill., for July 5th—just before the frat convention in St. Paul. This date will conflict with the Illinois State Association Convention in Rock Island, whither some fifty Chicagoans will meander on their way to St. Paul.

Following the frat division meeting of the 13th, the doors were thrown open to the ladies, and all remained half-an-hour to see an interesting address by Mrs. Gus Hyman, Custodian of the new Illinois Home for Aged Deaf. "You criticize because the Home is not filled; can we reach out and grab and imprison the aged deaf whether they want to come or not? We only wait proper applications of proper parties," began her masterly discourse on the countless difficulties which face any and every new undertaking.

The ladies at that addressed noticed an empty chair, draped in crepe, in front of the secretary's table—evidently memorizing the death of a brother since the last monthly meeting. Probably Samuel Norris.

Wm. Zollinger was selected by Rev. Hasenstab's M.E. flock to represent them at the Lay Electoral Conference of the 5th, with Mrs. Hasenstab as reserve delegate. Miss Constance interpreted for them. The National Food Manufacturer's Advertising Service, which gave feeds at both the Silent A.C. and at All Angels' a year ago, will repeat at the Sac, 6:30 Saturday, November 3d. Fifty cents per plate, all welcome—but better notify Chairman Johnnie Sullivan at once to reserve plates.

The National Fraternal Society of the Deaf, incorporated with headquarters in Chicago, passed the half-million mark in September. This would ordinarily merit a "lead article," but we have become so accustomed to associating frats with big things that it fails to occasion more than passing comment.

Bennie, the hearing brother of the three Newmans, died on the 17th. Miss Jane Fulkerson is the latest young addition to our colony, coming from Pittsburgh to keep house for her hearing sister in Evanston.

One Rooney, from St. Louis, has bobbed up declaring his intention of sojourning with us for a spell. Charles Spruitt, a hearing man who taught in the Jacksonville School for over twenty-five years before retiring on a pension, and his deaf wife, are living at 4435 Prairie Avenue.

Fred Lee, the $65 per week sign-painter, who was taken sick three weeks after he arrived in Chicago, is reported ill at his home in Lincoln, Neb., with laryngeal pneumonia.

Mrs. Augusta Gunner, 74 years old, widely known resident of Dallas, Texas, died on Monday morning, October 15th. She was the mother of Herbert Gunner, of Chicago, Ill. Herbert on receipt of a telegram announcing her demise left immediately for Dallas, but arrived a few hours too late for the funeral, having been delayed eleven hours by a washout in the State of Oklahoma. Besides Herbert, she leaves four daughters, Mrs. Eild, Mrs. Clifford Blumel of Panama, Mrs. Minnie Ott and Mrs. Blanch Gramatky, who live near Los Angeles.

Dates ahead: October 27—Hallowe'en parties at both Sas and Pas. November 3—Food Manufacturers dinner, 6:30, at Sac, 50 cents, all welcome. 16-17—Annual Bazaar, All Angels' Church, 6121 Indiana Avenue 24—Frat Vaudeville at Sac, managed by yours truly.

THE MEACHERS.

WEDDING BELLS!

ALLGART—CHANLER.

GENESE, N. Y., Oct. 20.—In the chapel of St. Felicity at Sweet Briar Farm, near here. Miss Beatrice Chanler, daughter of Major and Mrs. Winthrop Chanler, was married to-day to Mr. Pierre F. Allegaert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar J. Allegaert of Newark, N. J., and both members of the Xavier Epiphany Society. The ceremony followed a meeting of the Genesee Valley Fox-hounds in which Major Chanler, as M. F. H. participated and the reception on the lawn took on the colorful and animated characteristics of a hunt breakfast. The hunt started from the lawn of the Chanler residence. Many of the guests followed the hounds and wore hunt dress.

The bride's family is well known here and abroad and is related to the Astor, Winthrop, Livingston, Beckman and Schuyler families. She is a niece of Mr. Lewis Stuyvesant Chandler, former Lieutenant-Governor of New York State, and also is a niece of the late Marion Crawford, the novelist. Her mother was Miss Margaret Terry, daughter of the late Luther Terry, the painter. She spent most of her childhood in Italy.

The couple will live in Newark.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. George Jones, rector of St. Mary's Church in this village, and the Rev. M. J. White of Newark. The chapel was decorated with everygreen, laurel leaves and autumn fruit. The bride's gown was of white satin, trimmed with old lace. Her coronet was orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and white roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Gabrielle Chandler, as bridesmaid, who wore a dress of flowered chiffon. Mr. John Allegaert, of Newark, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Alice and Constance Colt, the small daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Henry V. Colt of this village, were flower girls.

Among the guests were United States Senator and Mrs. James W. Wadsworth, Jr., Jerry J. Wadsworth, Miss Evelyn Wadsworth, Mr. and Mrs. Henry V. Colt and former Representative and Mrs. James W. Wadsworth of Genesee. From Newark there were the parents of the bridegroom, Mr. and William F. Hoffman, Mrs. Bernard M. Shanley, Mrs. John Delaney, Mrs. Herman Bornemann, Jr., Mrs. William C. Shanley, Mrs. Peter Hauck, Jr., Miss Grace McManus and Mr. and Mrs. John Phelan.

Others were Mrs. Austin Wadsworth, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wadsworth, Col. Shevick, Mr. Craig Wadsworth, Mr. and Mrs. Harry V. Colt, Mr. J. S. Wadsworth and Mr. Porter Chandler of Genesee Valley, Mrs. Hiram Sibley of Rochester, Mr. and Mrs. Whitney Warren, Mr. Charles Chapman, Mr. Richard Alrich, Mr. John Jay Chapman, Mr. Robert W. Chandler, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence G. White and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin D. Morgan of New York; Mr. and Mrs. Pickman of Boston; Miss Alice Atkinson of Richmond, Va.; Dr. Daniel Elliot and Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Shanley, Jr.—N. Y. Herald, Oct. 21.

Gallaudet College.

The Co-eds returned Sunday afternoon, after a lovely week-end stay at the Y. W. C. A. camp. It was pouring rain Friday afternoon when the girls pulled out of Kendall Green for their forty mile ride, but Saturday and Sunday proved ideal for camping, and a lovely time is reported by all. The girls were chaperoned by the dean, Miss Grace D. Coleman and Miss Mabel Nelson.

The boys fearing the Co-eds were getting the best of the week-end obtained permission to go on a long hike Sunday. About twenty-five fellows were in the bunch. They went to Cabin John by car, then hiked seven miles to Great Falls, had a lunch, then hiked back to the Cabin where they boarded a car for home. All arrived on the Kendall Green in time for supper. The hike was made on the old tow path of the famous canal, which extends to Harpers Ferry, Va.

The Speech Reading Club is now well under way and is proving a valuable organization. Prof. Irving Fufeld spoke Monday evening, the twenty-second. James Beauchamp is president. Robert Fletcher, vice-president and Miss Emma Sandberg secretary for this term. Bierny Wright, '27, was recently removed to Sibley Hospital, where he has been quite ill. However the latest reports show him to be rapidly improving.

Stanley Bondick of the Preparatory Class had the misfortune to brake his leg in a practice game, on Hotchkiss Field. Bondick is a small lad, yet bubbles over with enthusiasm in all College affairs. He is one of the boys who volunteered when Coach Hughes called for more candidates for the football team. The accident is indeed very unfortunate. He is doing very well at the Sibley Hospital.

Professor Skyberg gave an illustrated lecture in the chapel Friday evening, the nineteenth. His subject was "Butterflies and Moths." The lecture illustrated by films obtained from the Society of Visual Education. Prof. Skyberg gave the same lecture Thursday night to the women at Fowler Hall, who left for their camp Friday afternoon.

Fred R. Connor, '23, of Pittsburgh, is again a frequenter of the Green. He has secured a good position here with the Government Printing Office.

A number of students motored over to Quantico, Va., to see the game Saturday and report a fine trip. These same fellows are planning to motor to Gettysburg, Pa., to see the game there in November. It will give them a chance to view the old batt field at that place.

Quantico Marines, 61. Gallaudet, O.

Coach Hughes and his charges had a rather pleasant visit down at Quantico, Va., Saturday, but got the short end of the score. The Devil-Dogs have developed into one of the most powerful teams in the east, which is shown by their handily defeating the powerful Georgetown University team three weeks ago. They had no difficulty with our little men, and ran up quite a large score. Coach Hughes was handicapped by the absence of several of his best men, and compelled to send in any number of subs. In spite of the overwhelming defeat our men enjoyed the game very much, and were well treated by the big fellow down there. They gained much valuable experience in the encounter. Our next game is with the Randolph-Macon team here on the Green next Saturday. Its going to be some game, sure.

JOHN E. CRANE.

With the opening of the school, the familiar figure of Mr. John E. Crane who has been on the teaching staff for nearly half a century was found to be missing. During the past summer he was taken seriously ill. At the time of the opening of the school he was unable to come and attend to his classes so he was granted leave of absence for one year. In the meantime we sincerely hope that he will soon recover his health and be among the boys and the girls who love him with all their hearts for his kindness so sincere, for his sympathetic interest in their efforts to learn, and for his fatherlike personality.

Whenever he was giving lecture in the chapel both the pupils and the teachers would watch him attentively for his sign delivery was so clear and so simple that a small child could understand him. It was always his earnest wish that every pupil who was in the chapel could understand him and try to follow his teachings. In this respect he was so successful that many of the pupils now making their own way in the world still remember vividly his lectures and are trying to lead Christian lives.—S., in New Era.

AKRON, OHIO.

Mrs. B. M. Toomey spent the week-end at Marshallville, visiting her mother's relatives.

Mrs. W. R. Henning, Mrs. D. Wickline, H. B. Stewart, W. A. Hays, Fred Hanley, Chas. Brown, M. Young and M. Weaver were on an excursion trip to Columbus on Sunday, October 7th. They all had a good time, but their stay was very short there because their train was very late on an account of the connection with the Pittsburgh Division at Orrville.

Thomas Liller, who was laid off at Goodyear, has gone to Columbus in search of a job. May good luck attend him.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Dranginis, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Brown, Miss Alice Essex, Miss Ella Berry C. W. Berry, Lloyd Bower and George Miller visited the Home of the Deaf at Central College on their motor trip to Columbus on Sunday, September 30th. The visitors were pleased with the men's magnificent new building, which is supported by the deaf of the State.

Harry Hetzler, of Youngstown, is back again and will soon apply for the position of window trimmer in a downtown store.

"Abu" Lee and Taylor Baker, who were laid off at Goodyear recently, have gone to Alliance to become "pottery workers." We wish them success in their new field.

Horace Bell, employed at the Read Benzol Co., recently underwent an operation for the removal of his adenoids at a hospital here, and has recovered from the effects of same. He is a product of Arkansas.

Mrs. Carrie Berry, of Little Rock, Arkansas, has returned home after spending the summer with her son, C. W. Berry.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jones, of Columbus, have returned home after a week's visit with Mrs. Jones' parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Shropshire. Mr. Jones is employed at the National Glove Co. in that city.

Mrs. Lottie Lloyd of North Adams, Mass., is the guest of her brother, R. C. Burdick and wife, Goodyear Boulevard.

Miss Sadie Henwood left Wednesday for her home in North Adams, Mass., after a visit of two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Burdick.

Chas. Cole, of Oil City, Pa., was the guest of his old friend, Mike Gormly, the past few days. Mr. Cole is a gardener by occupation.

A campaign for some funds to buy new uniforms for the Silents basketball five has been started under the direction of David Williams, manager of the team. Up to date $50 has been subscribed. Friends of East Akron, Columbus and Wheeling, W. Va., generously shared in the campaign.

The Silents Sunday School class of the East Market Street Church of Christ recently gave a corn roast benefit on the lawn of Frank Brown, near Springfield Center. The late afternoon was spent in a hare and hound chase. The guests participated in an old fashioned Indian war dance, and then at 6 o'clock the whole merry crowd spent the evening around a big fire roasting corn and bacon, toasting marshmallows, which resulted in a splendid patronage through Mrs. B. M. Toomey's own personal efforts. The evening was immensely enjoyed by all.

Many friends of that venerable good man, J. W. C. Unsworth, living with his son, Robert Unsworth were sorry to learn that he was hurt in an automobile accident on Saturday, September 30th, in East Akron, and was laid up at the City Hospital for treatment, but we are glad to say he left the hospital and returned to his home Tuesday. The accident is said to have been unavoidable.

The Silent of Akron defeated the Martins Ferry eleven at Martins Ferry, Sunday, October 14th, by completely outplaying the locals in the last period. Quarterback Allen scored several of the visitors' points, making a field goal in the second quarter and two touchdowns in the last half.

LOS ANGELES.

It is pleasant to know that Los Angeles is to be transformed into a Pittsburgh of the West, because the city is soon to have a huge steel plant and its attendant blast furnaces erected between Long Beach and here. These will involve an investment of $10,000,000. The incorporation of this company followed a year's intensive study of conditions and needs in Southern California, and the enterprise now will hinge on about 200 miles of railway, which must be built from what are known as the San Juan basin coal fields to a point near Gallup, New Mexico, where it will connect with existing lines. This coal is of high grade for cooking purposes, and continued investigation has shown it to be in enormous quantity. The iron ore deposits in San Bernardino County are already famous for their fine quality, while in the Mojave desert is to be found green fluor-spas, which is used as a flux in steel and iron melting. Very few deposits of fluor spar are to be found in the world, this country having imported it from Great Britain for years, previous to the discovery of small beds in Kentucky and Illinois.

The building of this plant will bring to the South-West one of the basis industries necessary to its further development. So in the case of cotton, where we have now begun to build our own factories to absorb the Imperial Valley and Arizona Staple, so it will be in regard to iron and steel.

When it is in operation and the great steel mills and smelters are running full blast, there will be added to the payrolls and products of Southern California and the Los Angeles district many millions of dollars annually with the addition of thousands of new homes for families of the employees.

The construction of several skyscrapers down town is under way. The city is growing like a mushroom. Some prominent business men rubbed their eyes in amazement, as they saw the skyscrapers which had punctured the skyline since their visit eight years ago. "No wonder New York, Chicago and other large Eastern cities look with envious eyes upon your city, it is remarkable," one of them said.

After a stay of several weeks here Miss E. Pustri has turned from the lure of California climate and color—leaving last Tuesday for her New York City home. It is doubtful Los Angeles will see her again.

Concluding several weeks' visit in Los Angeles, where they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. S. King have returned, expecting to be in time for the opening of the Arkansas School for the Deaf.

That Miss B. Wood of this city and Mr. R. Dunlap, of Tennessee, were united in marriage last Sunday afternoon, after their acquaintanceship ripened into love is pleasant news to their many friends. Following their short honeymoon, they are very happily situated in one of the cosy city apartments. Heartly congratulations to them.

Mr. F. S. Melton blew in from Colorado a couple of weeks ago, during which time he has been in and around Southern California. He apparently plans to prolong his stay for an indefinite period.

Finding Los Angeles to be a very charming place to live in, Mr. J. McGrew and his folks have come down from Kansas. If everything around here goes well, they will make their home here.

The home of Mr. Henry Fritz in Hollywood was the scene of a brilliant wedding affair when their oldest daughter was married. She was showered with many lovely wedding gifts by her forty-two guests.

The mother of Mr. J. Singleton has recently moved out to live with Mrs. F. Roberts in Topanga Canyon as long as she wishes. The salt air and enjoyment in looking at the ocean waves will no doubt have a beneficial effect in helping her to forget her infirmities.

Mr. H. Zaretsky has recently returned home to Philadelphia after several months' pleasant stay in our California climate. His friends there may hardly recognize him, on account of his dark complexion from the effects of our daily sunshine.

What is the matter with our friend, Mr. O. Guire, not dropping in to bid goodbye on his way east? We feel certain that by this time he is dividing his time between studying chemistry at the University of George Washington and teaching in Gallaudet College.

Mr. M. Cool has just sold his old home on Chicago Street and plans to move out to North Hollywood, so as to be near his work. Besides he has a new two story residence stucco of nine rooms on Broun Avenue, which was recently completed, for sale. He is prospering.

Most of the deaf in town were rejoicing in the return of Mr. A. Silnitzer. During several weeks' pleasant recreation, he was greatly missed at the Los Angeles Silent Club. He looked the real picture of a healthy man.

Another rainfall of the season visited us a few days ago. We enjoyed a good breath of air in consequence. E. M. PIRCE.

National Association of the Deaf

Organized, August 25, 1880.
Incorporated, Feb. 23, 1900.

GALLAUDET DAY

December 10th, the birthday of Thomas Hopkins Gallaudet, should be observed by every organization of the deaf in this country.

Unfortunately it is not. Some organizations allow the day to go by unnoticed, without giving thought to this greatest benefactor of the American deaf.

December 10th, this year, falls on Monday. Where it is not convenient or desirable to observe the anniversary on that day, Saturday, December 8th, or Sunday the 9th may be designated instead. We hope that every organization of any consequence in the country will endeavor to have suitable exercises in memory of our great and good friend.

The Gallaudet Monument Committee of the Association is now endeavoring to complete the fund required to erect on the grounds of the American School at Hartford a replica of the Daniel Chester French statue of Thomas Hopkins Gallaudet at Washington. Several hundred dollars are still needed.

If our organizations will co-operate on this coming anniversary, it should be possible to raise the fund to the required figure. The work of erecting the replica could then be completed within a reasonable time. The thanks of a grateful people would take tangible and beautiful form in this splendid statue, located amid the scenes of Gallaudet's early labors in behalf of the deaf;

ARTHUR L. ROBERTS,
President.

COMMITTEES AND ORGANIZERS

The President desires that all committee members and organizers during the last administration of the Association hold over for the present, until a survey can be made and the wishes of communities and individuals ascertained, with a view to obtaining the best possible co-operation in carrying forward the work of the Association.

Appointments to the various committees and the selection of State Organizers will be announced as soon of possible.

CURRENT DUES

There doubtless are many loyal members of the Association who are unaware that they are behind in their dues for their current year, June 1, 1923 to June 1, 1924, and who, upon being reminded by this notice, will be only too glad to make good—or, better still, to become life-members and be done with the annual bother of being reminded and the inconveniences of filling out checks and money orders. The fee is only $10, which goes into an endowment fund, the income of which, as soon as it is sufficient large, will be devoted to the establishment of permanent headquarters in charge of experts, so that more efficient and vigorous prosecution of the work of the Association can be maintained.

Nearly 300 members have become "Lifers." Why not jump in and join the crowd, and urge your friends to do likewise?

Fees and dues should be sent to
F. A. MOORE,

PORTLAND, OREGON

Mrs. Guie L. Deliglio invited M. and Mrs. Ruby Spieler to her home for dinner on Sunday, September 30th. When Mr. and Mrs. Spieler arrived at 1:30, they were completely surprised to find thirty of the deaf friends waiting to celebrate their Linen Wedding anniversary. At 2 P.M. a beautiful lunch of all kinds of good eats and ice cream was partaken. Visitors from out of town who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Craven, of Tillamook, Ore., and Mrs. Neva Jackson, of Gresham, Ore. The afternoon and evening was spent in chatting away the time. Mrs. J. A. Fisher was the hostess, and Mrs. Deliglio offered her home for the event.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Hastings is now ready to meet demands for winter rains, as shingles have been laid in place of old ones. Miss N. Jackson, of Gresham, Ore., was a visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Spitzer for a week recently.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Lee, formerly of Los Angeles, Cal., are now living in Portland, where Mr. Lee has gone in partner with another hearing man, in the auto painting business, and if successful he will make Portland his future home.

The ladies of the S. F. L. Club held a meeting on Saturday October 6th, at the Redmen's Hall, and elected the new officers for coming year. They are President, Mrs. J. O. Reiche; Vice President Mrs. J. A. Fisher; Secretary, Mrs. Ruby Spieler; Treasurer, Mrs. Wayne Thierman.

NEW YORK.

News items for this column should be sent direct to the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL, Station M, New York.

A few words of information in a letter or postal card is sufficient. We will do the rest.

On Saturday evening, October 20th, the Women's Parish Aid Society of St. Ann's Church presented a stage entertainment which consisted of a variety of songs and dramatic selection from Longfellow's Hiawatha. From the sale of tickets and refreshments, the sum of nearly sixty dollars, net profit was realized as the first big acquisition towards the Fair, which the ladies will conduct next year in St. Ann's Parish House. The spectators who went to see this performance of Hiawatha received their money's worth, even if the frequent shifting of scenery rendered the play spasmodic and long-drawn-out. There was abundant interest shown by the audience, from the first scene clear through to the last, where the acting of Misses Lewis and Sherman was most dramatic.

Mrs. Johanna McCluskey had charge of the spectacle. Under her capable direction, the affair ran smoothly, and must be called a success. The actresses on the stage each did her part carefully and conscientiously. Not one player forgot any of her lines, we are assured by Mrs. McCluskey, who stood behind the wings hook in hand prepared to prompt anybody, but discovered that nobody needed prompting. This is a rare occurrence, as any person knows who has ever taken part in amateur theatricals. As a result of this extra care, the play passed without any errors or absurdities. The scenery and the colorful costumes were a delight to the eye. For the scenery, credit must be given to Mr. Adolph Pfandler and Mrs. McCluskey. For the costumes, thanks are owed to Miss Cecile Hunter, who wore out a dozen sewing machine needles on the job of stitching, with the assistance of Mrs. Kent and Mrs. Lieberz and a few others.

Several new stars in the amateur firmament were disclosed to view at this performance. Mrs. Young, who in past could not be dragged upon the stage by a team of mules, she was that shy—Mrs. Young appeared here in the thin disguise of her Indian regalia and stood up and spoke a piece, and got away with it much to her own surprise. Doris Kent, seven-year old daughter of the Vicar of St. Ann's, made her first appearance in the footlights' glare, and received much applause. Misses Edna Adams, Constance Pizzutos, and Doris Patterson transferred their talent from the Fanwood stage to that of St. Ann's, and helped the elder organization considerably. The rest of the players were expert speakers and actresses.

The full cast was as follows:—

Nokomis Miss Alice Judge
Little Hiawatha Doris Kent
Hiawatha grown up Florence Lewis
Mudjewis Eleanor Sherman
Mudjewis Constance Pizzutos
Pearl Feather Wanda Makowska
Iago, the Boaster Mabel Hall
Pau-Pau-Keewis Cecile Hunter
Chibiabos Mrs. Gillen
Arrow-maker Edna Adams
Indian Tribesmen—Mrs. Young, Elizabeth Macleire, Nettie, Miller, Doris Patterson.

The lunch counter was managed by Mrs. Kent, assisted by Miss Katherine Thompson and Ruth Kent and Miss Augusta Berley. Everybody was working hard to make the evening entertaining. It is only hard work that makes any affair a success. Mr. Pfandler and Mrs. McCluskey slaved hardest of all, and to them the W. P. A. S. is most indebted. And the stage of St. Ann's Church is better off for having had Longfellow's classic lines dramatized on it. The hearing visitors of the evening got full benefit through the kindness of Mr. William McCluskey, son of our Mrs. McCluskey, who read the lines in each scene and kept pace with the acting by his knowledge of the sign language.

H. A. D.

"What a Man is Made Of" was the title of an absorbing subject delivered by Rev. A. J. Amateau on Friday, the 19th inst. This Friday his topic will be "Israel Zangwill and the Jewish Congress." All welcome.

The Hallowe'en Dance under the auspices of the Entertainment Committee of the H. A. D. was the first social function held at the S. W. J. D. Building on October 20th. All attendance records for an opening affair of this kind were shattered, nearly 200 being present. A general good time was had by all, thanks to Chairman Zela Bornstein and her bustling Committee.

WEDDING BELLS!

Miss Bertha Drescher, who was educated at the New York Gallandet Day School and Mr. Victor R. Anderson, a graduate of the Fanwood School, were united in holy wedlock on Saturday, October 6th, by the Rev. John H. Kent, at St. Ann's Church for the Deaf.

Miss Victoria Anderson, a sister of the groom was bridesmaid, and Mr. Austin Fogarty acted as best man.

The bride wore a dress of white tulle, trimmed with Spanish lace and her wedding veil was trimmed with orange blossoms. The bouquet consisted of white roses and lilies of the valley.

The bridesmaid wore a dress of yellow tulle, trimmed with silver lace. She carried a bouquet of yellow tea roses.

A reception was held at the home of the bride, only intimate friends and relatives of the family attending.

The couple spent their honeymoon in Philadelphia, Pa.

BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY.

Happy and carefree, blessed with good health and ample wealth and a legion of friends, debonair Keith Watt Morris celebrated his thirty-fourth anniversary on Thursday, October 11th. He greeted old Father Time with a smile and a characteristic shrug of the shoulders and then proceeded merrily on the way towards his thirty-fifth milestone.

In honor of the occasion, Mrs. Lawrence, Keith's mother, gave a dinner party at Michel's well-known restaurant on West 52d Street, where upwards of fifty friends, both deaf and hearing, joined in the celebration. Between courses dancing was enjoyed, enlivened by the strains of a lively jazz band, and everybody certainly had a good time.

Naturally, Mr. Keith was the recipient of many gifts.

Besides Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence, Keith's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Morris, and his sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Creswell, and a score or more hearing friends, there were present: Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. McManis, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pierce Kane, Mr. and Mrs. Hudson P. Radcliffe, Mr. and Mrs. Alvah Young, Mr. and Mrs. Osmond Leow, Mr. and Mrs. Runkel, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred C. Stern, Mrs. Johanna McCluskey, Miss Esther H. Spanton, Miss Cecile Hunter and the Messrs. John A. Roach, John E. O'Brien and Guy Selleck.

On Saturday, October 20th, a surprise party was given in honor of Bessie Levy and Mr. Hirsch Friedman by Mr. and Mrs. M. Pincus, at their home in Kosciuszko Street, Brooklyn, N. Y., and was a success in every way. Later in the evening the engagement of the couple was announced, and they received the congratulations of all present. Among those present were: Barney Greene, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Pachter, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Friedman, Mrs. Eva Taube, Miss Bessie Wax, Miss Cecilia Stark, Mr. and Mrs. H. Schurman, Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Silber and Miss Gertrude Fahrenholz.

On the 14th of October a party of deaf-mutes went on a fishing trip to Ambrose Channel, and most of them caught a dozen or more whiting, black bass and bluegills. The first catch or cash prize fell to Joseph Graham, the President of Bronx Division, No. 91, N. F. S. D. Mr. Lunderhoff captured second prize. The next fishing party will come off sometime during November. Any reader of the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL, who wish to join are welcome. Mr. Joseph Graham will be pleased to give information.

Mrs. William Lustgarten, who has been a member of the St. Nicholas Democratic Club for the past four years attended a Hallowe'en party given by that organization on Saturday, October 20th, and had a fine time. There was lots of fun from beginning to end, and dancing too. A fine supper of beefsteak and other good things were served.

Mr. Carl M. Bohner is spending the winter in New York City, doing research study in the metallurgical laboratories of Columbia University. Mr. Bohner is a graduate of Ohio State University, and is an expert worker in steel, having been employed at Gary, Ill., and Akron, Ohio.

The Hallowe'en party of Bronx Division No. 92, N. F. S. D., takes place this Saturday evening, at D. A. Turn Hall, 412 East 158th Street, between Elton and Melrose Avenues. Get off at 156th Street and 3d Avenue "L" Station. Chairman Blake promises to make good on the surprise. Come and see what it is.

The Rev. Henry J. Pulver, of Washington, D. C., was in town Thursday October 18th, on his way back to the Sunny South after a two weeks visit to his old home in Saratoga Springs, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Zeiss, who have until now lived with Mrs. Zeiss' parents in the Bronx, have taken their own apartment in Flatbush, N. Y.

The good we do in the world is regulated by the attitude we take against wrong.

OHIO.

[News items for this column may be sent to our Ohio News Bureau, care of Mr. A. B. Greener, 998 Franklin Ave., Columbus, O.]

October 14, 1923—The Akron Silents were in Columbus again last Saturday and Sunday. On the latter day they played the Wagner Pirates at the Driving Park and came out victorious, this time 10 to 7. Had the game continued a minute or two longer another story would probably have to be told. But the Silents were in the lead, as above, when the time limit was called out, and thus had secured their second victory in Columbus in two successive games. About 3000 witness the contest. Mr. Lewis Seinesohn was along, but played only for a short time, and that as a substitute. Injuries received in previous games has made it necessary for him to be less active.

Mr. C. M. Rice and his daughter, Delight Rice, are back in the United States again. After some years in Manila, where the latter had charge of the School for Deaf and the Blind and the former as a teacher in it. Miss Rice's health was failing, which caused her to resign the position, and new principal succeeded her, appointed by the Director of Education. The new appointee was unfamiliar in the teaching of the deaf and blind, and that caused some friction. Mr. Rice resigned his place. They are now living in Palo Alto, Cal. Miss Rice has about recovered her health and fills a position at the Stanford University. Mr. Rice will come east to visit his home and friends in the Spring, or when he has become acclimated.

Three showers in one week upon one person must indicate a wedding near at hand for the one thus honored by friends. That is what Miss Iva Lohr went through last week. First a number of hearing friends beshowered her with a number of articles that come handy as well as beautify the home of a married couple. Friday afternoon a number of her dear friends of Columbus, went over to her home near London and surprised her with a shower of linen articles and also gave her a shower of confetti as she was passing from one room to another, which had been arranged on the top of a door, to fall upon her as she passed through. Exclamations of Oh's I followed from the victim as the bits of paper fell upon her, and laughter from the guests. Then followed a feast of good things by the company with Miss Lohr serving them out. Miss Lohr accompanied the party to the city in the evening as guest of Miss Cora Uhl.

Next evening she was host to another shower for Miss Lohr, the guests being deaf co-laborers while she was employed in the school. The gifts this time being of the tin variety. While standing under a chandelier unpacking a large bundle, a package of rice suspended from above mysteriously opened and let out its contents upon the head of the innocent person under it. After the excitement had waned over the incident, Miss Lohr thanked her friends for the gifts, a collection of kitchen ware. Miss Rose March, one of the teachers, also was present for a short time, and left a token for the bride-to-be. The remainder of the evening was passed in conversation and the serving of refreshments, and when the guests departed it was with many well wishes for Miss Lohr in the new duties she will soon take upon her self.

The members of the Columbus Ladies' Aid Society are busy at work preparing for their Hallowe'en Carnival to be given at the School for Deaf Saturday, October 27th, from 3 to 10 P.M.

They ask all their friends to come and participate in the affair. They want you to eat your supper from the Lunch Booth, where eats will be from America, England, Ireland, France, Holland and Java, and if you visit Ireland you will be sure to get a delicious cooling dish, and slack your thirst at the soft drink booth. Just put your thumb into Jack Horner's Pie and see what you may pull out, or take a peep into Mother Hubbard's Cupboard. You can buy seeds, bulbs, flowers or plants from the "Three Little Maids from School," in charge of the Flowery Kingdom or get a bit of fancy work or a dolly at the Bazaar, and when you leave, take home a box of home made candy for those who missed a pleasant evening.

Mr. Roy Conkling, former foreman of the Ohio Chronicle, but now editor of the Versailles Police came over to Columbus this morning on a visit to his sister, living in the east end. Evidently running a country newspaper agrees with him, for he has grown somewhat stout and still keeps up being a jolly good fellow.

Mr. Ernest Zell motored down to Dayton yesterday to visit friends and relatives. Yesterday being the anniversary of the discovery of America by Christopher Columbus, there was no school and teachers were excused from classes until Monday.

Thursday afternoon, the Girls' Club with Miss Ethelburga Zell, as chaperonage went up to the Y. W. C. A. camp, about two miles south of the Home for Deaf and remained till this evening, while the H. C. boys in charge of Mr. L. LaFountaine camped at the Home and spent their time roaming about the woods and country gathering nuts and apples, which they will bring home tonight.

Mr. Kreigh B. Ayers with his little son motored down from Akron yesterday on business with the Board of Managers of the Home, regarding a new heating plant for the women's building.

Mr. and Mrs. Newton Lowry, of Washington, D. C., with their little son stopped here a few hours Thursday forenoon. They had autoed West early in the summer to Colorado Springs, and were now going home. They were supplied with camping paraphernalia and so could stop anywhere they desired on the trip and make themselves at home. They were guests at the Colorado Springs School for Deaf, Council Bluffs, Iowa. In several of the cities, where they stayed they were given, guest plates by Automobile Clubs, as we observed several. Their machine a Buick behaved nicely for the long trip it had made, nearly 5000 miles to this point, though all the wheels had each a tire puncture. They were guests of Miss Zell during their stop here.

October 20, 1923—The Board of Managers of the Home for Aged and Infirmary Deaf held its annual meeting on the evening of October 12th, in the Library of the School. This was the initial meeting of Mrs. Ella Zell, who was chosen thereto last year, and thus marks her as the first woman to become a member of the Board.

When the roll was called these resident members responded present: Dr. Patterson, Superintendent Jones, Mr. Carl Williams, Mrs. Zell, Messrs. MacGregor Zorn, Beckert, Ohlemacher, Showalter, Rev. C. W. Charles and A. B. Greener. Non-resident members Rev. George Flick, of Chicago; Louis J. Bachebeler, of Cincinnati; S. W. Corbett, of Bellaire and Collins S. Sawhill, of Cleveland. Letters from other members were read expressing regret for not being able to attend the meeting. Among the latter was one of from Mr. Preston L. Stevenson, of Findlay, Deputy Recorder of Hancock County, who enclosed a bran new bill as a donation to the Home to mark his presence.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and after slight corrections approved. President Patterson spoke of Mrs. Zell as a member of the Board, and said her help would be beneficial in solving the various and sometimes delicate matters that the Board would have to meet, also her help would come handy as an interpreter, and he was pleased to welcome her as a member of the Board. Mr. Kreigh B. Ayers was in attendance by request, and gave advice to the in regard to the proposed new heating plant for the Women's building. Of the three methods of heating, furnace, steam and hot-water, he recommended the latter as giving best results, but advised that nothing he done in the matter until next spring or summer, and when once decided to rush the work through to completion, by so doing the cost would be less and better results obtained. He was not able then to state the probable cost of the system. It may be $5,000 and upward. According to the Treasurer of the Board the fund now amounts to about $1,168.62.

The 25th report of the Board to the President of the Alumni Association was then read by Mr. MacGregor. There were five deaths during year ending August 31st, 1923. The oldest 87 and youngest 61. Number now under care, 35. Since the opening of the Home twenty-five years ago 93 persons have found shelter in it.

More contributions for the heating plant are asked for, and it is hoped to have the improvement completed the coming year.

An additional water supply is very much needed, and a new well as have water pumped up from Walnut Creek, 1/4 mile away, will be necessary. The large Cistern built near the men's building does not supply sufficiently for all purposes.

A new milk house will have to be built as per order of the State Milk Inspector.

Miss Caroline Geyer is thanked by the Board for a concert she gave, which netted the Home $240.05, also the Wednesday Evening Club members, who presented to the Home a moving picture machine, which greatly adds to the pleasures of the "residents." To Architect Carter for blue prints of the Woman's building basement, which aids in formulating specifications for the heating plant. Treasurer Charles is praised for the clearness of his report, also Superintendent Chapman is thanked for the good showing he has made from the farm and garden, he having turned into the treasury $1,719.19 the past year from sale of products, not counting the supplies furnished the "residents, and last, but not least, those who have contributed financially and in other ways, especially the grand old standbys, the Ladies'

Aids and other societies. They stand as sentinels on the ramparts, ever ready to respond to any call for help, and they have never failed us for yet in any emergency."

Superintendent Chapman opens his report by giving the names, and cause of death of the five, who died during the past year, also age and place of burial. There were five admissions during the same year. As a complete list of those who have been admitted to the home since its opening in 1897, has never been given, Mr. Chapman assisted by Mr. MacGregor went through the records last winter and compiled one. This list will hereafter be kept in a separate ledger.

Twenty-five acres of hay were cut last spring and both barns were about full, 25 acres of corn were planted and promises well, 336 bushels of wheat were threshed, but none of it sold yet, because of low price, 150 bushels of potatoes have been stored for winter use, 32 bushels of strawberries were gathered and there was a good crop of blackberries, currants and gooseberries. The fruit crop was the best yet grown at the Home, there is now on hand a good supply of vegetables.

Mr. Chapman enumerates several needs at the Home, which we will refer to in the Board's doings below. He also is grateful to those who rendered services and donations.

Of the treasurer's report we will give a resume next week.

Because the State Librarian desires 100 copies of the Annual Reports of the Home for exchange among Libraries, the Board authorized a larger quota to be printed hereafter.

The Executive Committee in compliance with Superintendent Chapman's requests authorized the Executive Committee to act accordingly in providing a better water supply, build a new hog house, repair or build a new chicken house, and have the barn on the 70 acres farm purchased some years ago, repaired. It also decided to postpone the putting in a new heating plant in the Women's building until next spring or summer. Mr. J. C. Winemiller was chosen a member of the Board.

Saturday morning the members of the Board with two exceptions with their wives and some guests, twenty in all visited the Home and spent the day inspecting the plant and conversing with the "residents." Mrs. Chapman treated them an appetizing dinner of chicken, and other accompaniments that tickle the palate. Dr. Patterson in behalf of the guests thanked her for the spread, Rev. Flick upon request spoke of the newly acquired Illinois Home in Chicago, and how it is ready to receive residents for a matron is already there, but so far no applications have been received.

The following has been sent us.

"Mrs. Berthier Lohr announces the marriage of her daughter, Iva to Mr. Charles B. Cook, on Thursday, October 18th, 1923, London, O. At home after November 1st, Columbus, O."

We extend sincere congratulations to both of the young people. The wedding took place at the bride's home and was attended by over 40 relatives and friends. Their honeymoon took them to near Pittsburg, where the home of the groom formerly was. He was educated in the Western Pennsylvania School for Deaf, while his bride received hers at the Ohio School. She was for some years up to last June as an assistant to one of the matrons.

The Akron Silents defeated the Martin's Ferry team last Sunday, 15 to 0.

The Mansfield Society gave a Masquerade Social last Saturday evening, at which they took in $100.05, part of which will go to the Home. All agreed it was a fine affair and everybody was made happy.

Miss Heasley, of Columbus, won first prize as being the prettiest costumed and Miss Oldham, of Toledo, second prize. Miss Small, of Mansfield, took first prize as being the funniest gown, and Mr. Strauss, of Columbus, second. Mr. Hassinger, of Mansfield, first, and Mr. Stelzer, of Akron, second as the ugliest. While Mrs. Edith Dranginis, of Akron, first prize as the cutest.

Miss Dorothy Durrant, of Columbus, with several others attended the affair.

FANWOOD.

On Thursday evening, the 18th of October, the members of the Fanwood Literary Association gathered in the chapel. Dr. Thomas F. Fox, President of the F. L. A., occupied the chair. The High Class entertained the members with stories and readings. Cadet Captain Joseph Mazzola and Cadet Captain Raymond McCarthy gave very exciting arguments on the debate. The affirmative side won by two points. The judges were Cadet First Sergeant Ben Ash, Cadet Color Sergeant Junior, Edward Kerwin, and Corporal Edna Pardy. The girls did creditably well in their playlet, "The Princess."

Following is the program in full:

READING—"The Fish and the Ring," by Richard Pokorny.

READING—"Before Cannibal, Now Preacher," by Robert Fitting.

DEBATE—Resolved, That England leads America in literature, sports, manufacture, and commerce.

AFFIRMATIVE NEGATIVE
Raymond McCarthy Joseph Mazzola

READING—"Nix, Nought Nothing," by Joseph Krassner.

READING—"American Boy," by Benny Shafranek.

STORY—"Legend of the Morning Star," by John Whitley.

STORY—"The Twelve Months," by Edmund Hicks.

READING—"A Great Excitement," by Rudolph Behrens.

READING—"The Land of the Dead," by Walter Oehm.

ESSAY—"Our School and its Benefits," by Butler Atkinson.

PLAYLET—"THE PRINCESS."

The Prince Rose Orter
The Princess Ethel Koblenz
Florian Jennie Tanajewski
Cyril Gladys Dennis
Lady Psyche, a teacher Dora Schumacher
Melissa, a little girl Mabel Bowser

Synopsis—In babyhood the Princess became engaged to the Prince. This was while the Prince was also a baby in long dresses. The Prince, Florian and Cyril were supposed to be men disguised as women.

Scene—Twenty years later.

Recently the Kindergarten children have shown their versatility and ability to manage a garden of their own. Having obtained from Principal Gardner permission to have a strip of the girl's lawn set aside for them to lay out as a garden, they chose a place on the north side of the girls lawn, which is favored by the sun's rays morning and afternoon.

Here one morning the little ones assembled, the girls in Dutch caps and carrying watering pots, the boys, dressed as farm hands in blue denim overalls and wide-brim straw hats, and each carrying a hoe or a rake. Marshalled by the teachers they formed in procession and marched stately over their lawn, as the Principal and other school attaches watched with admiration.

Under the oversight of Albert, our gardener and Mr. Spaul, who is an enthusiastic expert on the culture of bulbs, the children planted tulips, hyacinths, daffodils, and crocus. About 100 new bulbs had been purchased, and besides these, all the bulbs kept from last season's blooms were planted. The children entered into the planting with zest and real enjoyment, and the idea of the directress and her assistants is admirable and in the line of practical education.

By next spring the children's garden will bloom with the colors of a variety of beautiful blooms, being under their own care, will both instruct and interest them.

The Protean Society held its first meeting of the year on the evening of October 17th. After the main business had been transacted, the election of officials for the term of 1923-24 took place, as follows:—Principal Isaac B. Gardner, Counsellor; Cadet Captain Joseph Mazzola, President; Cadet Captain Robert J. Fitting, Vice-President; Cadet Lieutenant and Band Leader Richard Pokorny, Secretary; Cadet Adjutant Joseph Krassner, Treasurer; Cadet Captain Raymond McCarthy, Chairman. The other active members are: Cadet Lieutenant Benny Shafranek and Cadet Drum Major James Garlick.

The senior members chose five probationers. They are: Cadet Lieutenant Rudolph Behrens, Cadet Lieutenant Arne Olsen, Cadet First Sergeant Ben Ash, Cadet First Sergeant Charles Knobloch, and Cadet Color Sergeant Senior, Edmund Hicks.

On Wednesday afternoon, a regular meeting of the Palette and Brush Club was held in the art-studio at 1 P.M., in order to elect new officers and to receive new members.

The following officers were elected: Cadet First Sergeant Charles Knobloch, President; Cadet Arthur Lander, Vice-President; Cadet Barney Kindel, Secretary; Cadet Musician Fred Hoffman, Treasurer.

The new members admitted are: Cadet Lieutenant Arne Olsen, Cadet First Sergeant Ben Ash, Cadet First Sergeant Jacob Gleicher, Cadet Louis Farber, Cadet Corporal Pierre Blend, Cadet Musician Melvin Ruthven.

The Club has a busy year ahead. Every one is now planning for the Christmas card sale, which will be held at the Studio early in December.

On Thursday evening, the 18th inst., the Proteans tendered a surprise party in the Protean Society Room to Cadet Lieutenant and Band Leader Richard Pokorny in honor of his birthday.

On Thursday, October 11th, Lieutenant Frank Lux, Physical Director, selected six boys for the Junior captaincy of the Basket Ball Tournament. They are: Cadet William Schurman, Packard; Cadet David Retzker, Stutz; Cadet Corporal Kaple Greenberg, Ford; Cadet John Whitley, Buick; Cadet John Curatola, Chevrolet, and Cadet Arthur Lander, Fiat.

The Margraf Athletic Association held a meeting in the boy's study room recently and elected new officers as follows: Cadet Herbert Alprent, President; Cadet Corporal Milton Koplowitz, Vice-President; Cadet Felix Kowalewski, Secretary; Cadet Musician Ernest Marshall, Treasurer; Cadet Corporal Herbert Carroll, Chairman, and Cadet Hymen Rubenstein, Vice-Chairman.

Miss Kate A. Currier and Miss Cecelia E. Otis took their morning and afternoon classes to 47th Street and 11th Avenue, to see the great steamship "Levathian," on Thursday morning, the 18th of October.

Last week Cadet First Sergeant Jacob Gleicher and Cadet Band Corporal Frank Heintz had a grand time roller skating at St. Nicholas Roller Skating Rink, 66th Street and Sixth Avenue.

On Wednesday evening, the 17th of October, eight boys were chosen as captain's of the Margraf Athletic Association Basket Ball Tournament as follows: Cadet P. Schwing, Cadet A. Cohen, Cadet Musician A. Manning, Cadet D. Van Es-sendelf, Cadet C. Dolensky, Cadet Musician P. Conklin, Cadet Corporal M. Koplowitz, and Cadet Musician S. Forman.

About two weeks ago the Bar-rager Athletic Association held a special meeting in the study room, and new officers for 1923-24 term were elected as follows: President, Avis Allen; Vice-President, Sarah Egan; Secretary, Mabel Bowser; Treasurer, Lincy Tichenor; Chairman, Carmella Palazzatta. Mollie Getsdorff was appointed Basketball Captain.

On Sunday evening, October 21st, Messrs. Charles Klein and John Spessman, both graduates of this school, were visitors.

Some of the pupils enjoyed visiting the Electrical and Industrial Exposition at Grand Central Palace on Saturday, October 20th.

ROBERT AND RUDOLPH.

KALINOWSKI-SHAHINIAN

On Saturday, October 20th, at 7 P.M. Thomas Kalinowski and Marie Shahinian were united in marriage at St. Mark's Church, New Britain, Ct., by Rev. Samuel Sutcliffe. The Episcopal service was used with the double ring ceremony. The ring service was repeated orally by both the bride and bridegroom. The bride was given away by her brother, Harry Shahinian who was the bestman. Two little girls held lighted candles during the ceremony. The service was interpreted in the sign language by Edward P. Clarke, of Hartford. At the conclusion of the service which was well attended, the bridal party and friends adjourned to Ukrainian Hall, where a reception was held, an orchestra furnishing music for the dancers and refreshments being served after which Mr. and Mrs. Kalinowski left for a week's tour.

Mr. Kalinowski is a graduate of the Clarke School at Northampton, and Mrs. Kalinowski graduated from the American School at Hartford and afterward attended Gallaudet College for one year. Both have been employed at the Stanley Rule and Level Co., and will reside in New Britain.

We extend our congratulations to Mr. Rodwell on his appointment to the Superintendency of the Winnipeg School for the Deaf. Mr. Rodwell taught for several years in the Ontario School with conspicuous success, and has had as good a record in the schools in the United States in which he has taught, the last one with which he was connected being the Minnesota School. We feel sure that he has capabilities that will ensure his success in the more difficult and responsible position he has been called upon to occupy. Our best wishes go with him.—The Canadian.
